Re Bureau airtel to Miami dated 7/14/67.

On 7/18/67, INS, Miami, advised that they did not anticipate any legal action against subject for all statements and perjury concerning an application for naturalization. INS said that although subject made false statements under oath and signed a sworn affidavit containing false information, INS does not usually prosecute these violations.

Concerning an obstruction of justice prosecution of the subject, INS, in the absence of instructions from their Regional Office or Central Office, has no present plans for prosecution.

Miami Office feels that prosecution of the subject would be a very easy case for INS with little or no investigative work involved. In the obstruction of justice case, witnesses would be the INS trial attorney, an INS investigator, and local newsmen. In the perjury case, the witnesses would be an INS naturalization officer and a couple of clerical employees.

It is felt that prosecution of the subject would curtail his activities, be a deterrent to other CNM members and serve notice to activists and terrorist groups that the Government does not condone acts of violence and disregard for Federal law.

Miami Office strongly recommends that the Bureau consider contacting the Department for the Central Office of INS concerning prosecution of the subject.

MM 635-S on 7/17/67, advised that ORLANDO BOSCH AVILA, Head of MIRR, told him he was not going to have anything more to do with the CNM. BOSCH implied the CNM is in bad financial condition and lacks money to buy military equipment. Informant and Customs were unable to estimate what explosives, if any, subject may possess. If information is developed along these lines, Miami will request Bureau authority to notify local police authorities.

Investigation on the subject continuing and Bureau will be advised.
